

THE ADDRESS MAY CHANGE, BUT NOT THE TRADITION OF CARE AT ANN'S HAVEN VNA

Ann's Haven VNA has a deep connection to the Denton area. The hospice care center was named in memory of Ann Winter Lockwood, a nurse who died from cancer in 1977. Her husband, the late Denton radiologist Dr. Robert Lockwood, was appreciative of the care and support they received from the community. He joined with other professionals and volunteers to form an organization that would make the medical, spiritual, psychological, and assistive care of hospice available to other terminally ill patients in Denton County. In 1980 that goal became a reality when Ann's Haven Hospice opened.

When Ann's Haven Hospice merged with the Visiting Nurse Association in 1995 to become Ann's Haven VNA, home care was added to the services provided.

The address of Ann's Haven VNA changed November 2010 when the organization moved to 325 W. McKinney Street, Suite 101 in Denton. An open house was held November 16 to welcome Dr. Kerry Mahan, the new associate medical director at Ann's Haven VNA.

"We may have moved to a new location, but our long tradition of caring for the Denton community hasn't changed," stated Robert Carpenter, president and CEO of the Visiting Nurse Association.
