

DESOTO COMPANY ADDS CHRISTMAS CHEER TO MEALS ON WHEELS DELIVERIES

Employees at Solar Turbines in DeSoto have been delivering Meals on Wheels for the Visiting Nurse Association for over seven years. In 2007 they began adding a special holiday touch for the elderly who receive the meals they deliver. Solar Turbines employees put up an angel tree at the company each December to collect Christmas gifts for these homebound seniors.

Brian Whitlow, who coordinates Meals on Wheels deliveries for Solar Turbines, and co-workers Henry Cole, Beth Searles, Julia Vickers, and Ellen Williams delivered gift bags containing these presents on December 21 to the homes of their Meals on Wheels clients.

“We look forward to these deliveries each year,” says Brian. “It makes Christmas special not only for those receiving Meals on Wheels, but for us, too,” he adds.
