2020-2021

ADMINISTERING COVID VACCINES

Protecting vulnerable seniors is VNA's mission, and delivering COVID vaccines to clients' homes is a further extension of this promise to the community. Partnering with Urban Inter-Tribal Center of Texas, Texas Division of Emergency Management and various local fire departments, VNA has helped vaccinate more than 1,200 homebound seniors with more in the queue.

In partnership with local community groups, VNA has helped vaccinate vulnerable senior citizens.

SERVING MORE IN NEED

Without fail, VNA continued helping homebound seniors through the pandemic. As prices rose, VNA put out the call for funds and our loyal donors answered. With various grants awarded, the success of our virtual Celebrity Chef and Cocktails in the Kitchen events, and dedicated friends like you, VNA was able to serve more homebound seniors and those suffering from terminal illness. Despite many challenges, you enabled us to keep going and help more in need.

Thanks to you, VNA was able to reach more homebound seniors.

RESEARCHING FOR INNOVATION

As a long-time innovator in health care, VNA is again paving the way for the future. Partnering with Brown University Center for Gerontology, VNA is studying the best method of home-delivered meals for those suffering from Alzheimer's and dementia. The study compares frozen meals delivered by mail versus traditional home-delivered meals provided by friendly VNA volunteers and staff to determine impacts on health and socialization.

VNA is committed to critical research that will enhance the quality of life for the elderly.

CARING FOR CRITICALLY ILL CHILDREN

As another mission-driven example of our tradition of providing care to the most vulnerable in our community, VNA's Children's Haven Pediatric Hospice Program launched in January. With our team of specially trained clinicians, VNA Children's Haven will provide in-home care and support to children suffering from life-limiting illness and their families. The goal of the program is to help these children and their families navigate the hospice journey with grace and compassion.

Your support is helping VNA launch this important program.
